FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is here
I hope to stay.
It's what I need
To make my day.

KITES

There's a kite way up in the air
Flitting, floating, first here, then there
Some are pink, purple, and blue
And some are just one color or hue
Sometimes soaring, sometimes falling
Sometimes jerking and sometimes stalling
I wonder what it's like up there?

Night Descending

Trees painting the horizon
 As the sun suddenly sinks behind them
 A hush falls over the street as lights are dimmed
 Night has descended.

If I were a spirit
 I'd be the spirit of Love
 If I were a bird
 I'd be a dove
 If I were a goddess
 I'd be the Goddess of Peace
 If I were a goose
 All my friends would be geese
 If I were a poet
 I'd write about friends
 If I were the Pope
 I'd pray, "Let the world never end."
 If I were a singer
 I'd sing about people
 If I were a building
 I'd be a church with a steeple
 If I were an actor
 I'd act in a play
 About how the world
 Will be some day
 With all of its peoples
 Grouped into one
 Maybe some day
 It will be done!

THE MASK

As people step out,
 They put on their masks,
 Leave their feelings at home,
 As they do their tasks.

They slip on emotions,
 Like a coat or a dress,
 Not what they feel,
 But what they think is best.

They laugh and they cry,
 They pretend they CARE,
 But it makes no difference,
 They're not really THERE.

Let's tear off their masks,
 SEE what they feel,
 Whether fair or unfair,
 It will be REAL.

MONEY

Workers earn it;
 Spendthrifts burn it;
 Companies lend it;
 Women spend it;
 Misers hoard it;
 Rich people award it;
 Dead people leave it;
 Heirs receive it;
 Poor people want it, bad.
 All that money I wish I had.

WAR

The flag wavers at a weak half mast
 But who is dead?
 Whose life is past?
 The coffin's laid out like a big black bed
 But who's inside?
 Whose life has fled?
 The air is heavy with a blanket of sorrow
 But who is grieving?
 Who'll be buried tomorrow?
 They say a war has ravaged the land
 But who has fallen?
 Who's been touched by death's hand?
 A boy is dead
 A boy is gone
 A boy is inside that coffin laid long
 When the draft was called
 He was quick to retort,
 "I will not fight for what I don't support."
 "Kill the enemy," they said.
 And he did
 So ended the life of a 19-year old kid
 A boy is dead
 A boy is gone
 Our nation has dug his grave head on.
